Foreword

The price of wisdom is above rubies.
-Old Testament

Many things are gained throughout a person's high school career--knowledge and many memorable experiences. But the greatest gift received from education is wisdom. The price of that is worth all one puts into his education. Along with wisdom one retains memories, which we have tried to recapture in this publication. We hope you will enjoy and cherish this book and the memories it holds.

Mrs. Beatrice Shoemaker has given years of service to the Lawton School as both a teacher and librarian. She has spent 16 1/2 years as fourth grade teacher until she retired in 1961. Since that time she has served as elementary librarian.

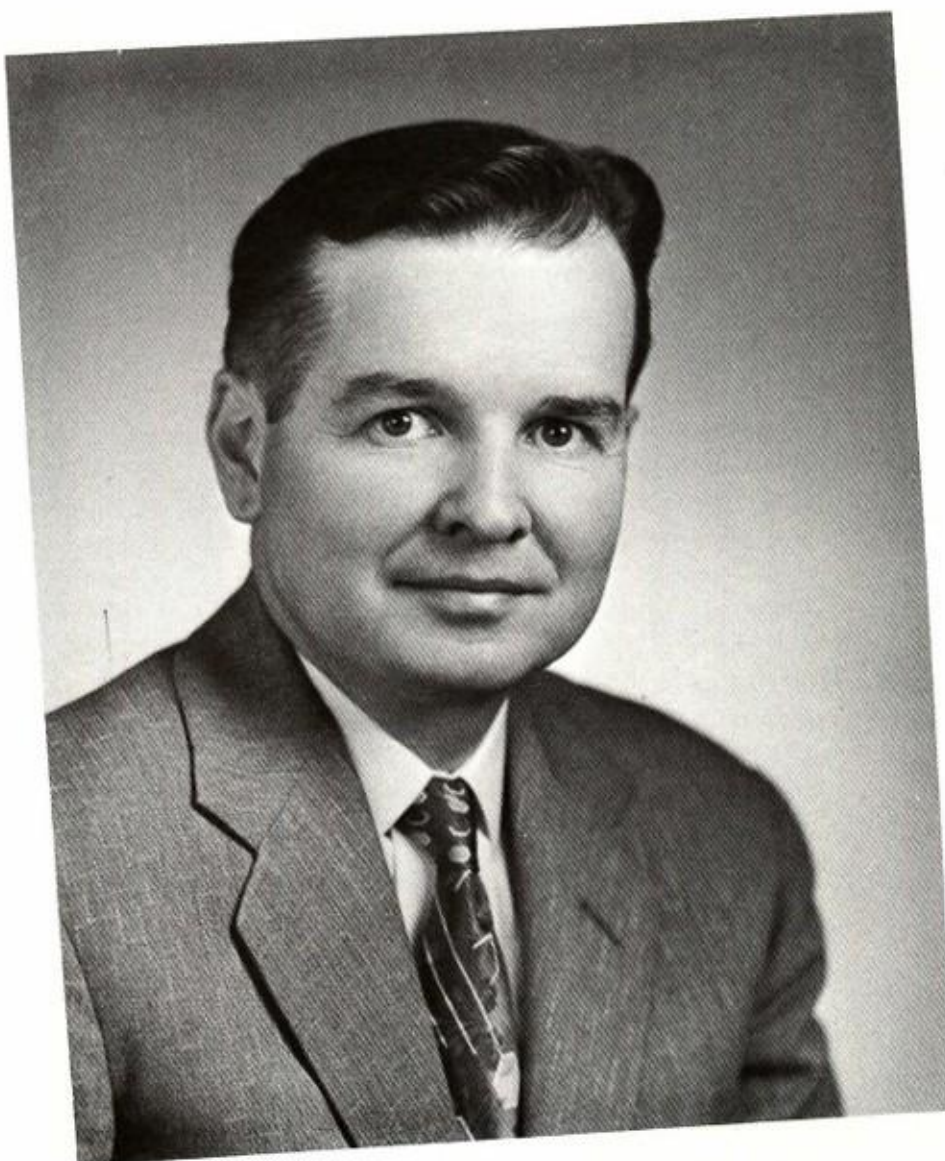

The annual staff wishes to dedicate this 1967 yearbook to her in appreciation of the work she has done, and the influence she has made on her students.

SUPERINTENDENT

By the time that this message goes to press, the Class of 1967 will have gone forth into the world. You will find that as you take your high school diploma from the hand of the Board Chairman, doors will close behind you but as these doors close, others will open ahead of you. These will be doors to opportunity.

Look not back at the closed doors to the rear but step confidently toward those open doors which lie ahead. If you do this, you will meet with the same continued success that you encountered during your high school career.

J. H. Campbell

JUNIOR HIGH PRINCIPAL

We commend the members of the class of 1967 on completion of their junior high school studies and offer our best wishes for their continued success in high school. May they strive diligently to acquire an earnest desire for knowledge and to savor and enjoy the rewarding experiences that lie ahead of them.

Forrest P. Rockwell

HIGH SCHOOL PRINCIPAL

It has been a privilege to serve as high school principal during the first year of our consolidation. It is my sincere desire that the people of our school district, and especially the students, may point with pride toward their school. I hope the knowledge obtained and the experiences gained by our students will be of service to them in the future.

I also want to wish every graduating senior the best of luck.
